

Your studies: Talking about your favourite module

Pre-task:

Tell your partner which modules you are studying this semester and what they are about.

Module = a part of your university course which is about a particular topic, for example “English Literature of the 19th Century”.

Currently, I am studying ...

This module is about...

In this module we look at...

Image 1

Task 1:

What is currently your favourite module? Present this module to your partner and explain why you like it so much.

My favourite module is called...

I like about the module that...

I like the module because...

The module is interesting / fun / engaging because...

Task 2:

Find out what the favourite module of your partner is. Ask questions to find out as much as possible about the module, e.g. title, number of lessons per week, content, number of participants, etc.

Which module do you like best? = What is your favourite module?

What is the module called? = What is the title of the module?

What do you like about the module?

Why do you enjoy studying this module so much?

Sources

Image 1

Copyright: College of Humanities, University of Exeter